

User Manual:

Blood samples should be filled into the microplate. 12 different samples can be filled. In addition to this, the strips should be placed on the strip holder. To start the test, the desired features such as experiment time and resolution etc. should be set and the program should be run.